We notice the Mt. Olivet scribe praising the boys of his village for their sobriety. Well, his town "is not the only pebble on the beach," because "there are others." Foxport is a small country village with only twenty eight families. Among its inhabitants are four merchants, a blacksmith and wagonmaker, two carpenters and four millers, besides several teamsters, horse traders and buyers, and in the whole village you cannot find a man who uses profane or vulgar language or who drinks intoxicating liquors. Our town is situated on the waters of North Fork, three miles East of Mt. Carmel, three miles South of Ruggles Campgrounds and four miles North of Bowman's Springs. The latter is one of Kentucky's undeveloped resources of profit and pleasure. The location is absolutely

One is white sulphur, one is black sulphur and the other is chalybeate, all within a space of twenty feet square. Mrs. A. Inven, residing at 720 Henry St., Alton, Ill., suffered from sciatic rheumatism for over eight months. She doctored for it nearly the whole of this time, using various remedies recommended by friends, and was treated by the physicians, but received no relief. She then used one and a half bottles of Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which effected a complete cure. This is published at her request, as she wants others similarly afflicted to know what cured her. ### THE LEGISLATURE.

Crumbaugh Seated in the Senate—The House Considers the Anti-Raiders Bill. FRANKFORT, Ky., April 23.—SENATE.—The Hon. Crumbaugh contested election case was settled in the senate Thursday by the adoption of the majority report, which seats Senator Crumbaugh, republican Senator Smith introduced a bill deferring payment of the $100,000 appropriation for two reform schools for two years.

HOUSE.—The house was engaged on the anti-raiders bill, the ninth section still pending when the session expired. The debate was continued by a tilt between Mr. Swinford and Mr. Robbins over the latter's statement that the bill had been gotten up by a turnpike lobby, referring to Col. W. W. Baldwin, the Mason county turnpike king. Mr. Swinford retorted that something of an evil nature must have passed through the mind of Mr. Robbins, or he could not have been guilty of such a charge. Mr. Violett, of Franklin, who had also spoken in favor of the bill, said angrily that he would hold the member from Graves to personal account unless the latter disclaimed any personal reference. Mr. Robbins said he spoke generally and did not impugn the motive of any member. Mr. Graziano, of Covington, opposed the section because it places the penalty for turnpike outrages on the taxpayers, while other owners of property who lose it by incendiarism are unpunished.

THE REPUBLICANS

Deadlocked on a Candidate for United States Senator—Twelve Ballots Taken. FRANKFORT, Ky., April 23.—The republicans are deadlocked in their late candidate for senator. At midnight the republican caucus had been in session four hours and had taken 12 ballots without one inch of progress toward a nomination. It is predicted that the fight for the nomination will be so bitter and prolonged that no man will come out of it with the full party strength behind him.

The attitude of the democrats in the present condition of affairs is entirely an expectant one. They believe that the situation is a desperate one, but have not given up hope. Action will be taken as soon as the republicans have made their nomination, and it is possible that with the almost equal party vote an election may still be prevented.

FIVE MOONSHINERS

Reported Killed by a Vigilance Committee Near Pikeville, Ky.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 23.—A special to the Post from Pikeville, Ky., says: An unconfirmed report reaches here from far up on the mountains that five moonshiners or desperadoes who had been terrorizing the people of the Virginia and Tennessee sides, were killed by citizens, who formed a vigilance committee and went after them Tuesday night. The men were killed as they left a cave or retreat which they had used as a rendezvous. One Virginia farmer and two men from the Tennessee side were hurt. They were J. W. Veels and the Brandt boys. It is believed two of the moonshiners were hurt as they retreated, blood having been found.

HEAVY FLOW

Of Natural Gas Struck at Walton, Ky., on the Snider Co.'s Property.

WALTON, Ky., April 23.—A heavy flow of natural gas was struck Thursday on the property of the T. A. Snider Co., of Cincinnati, at Walton, Ky. The firm recently purchased eight acres of ground here and began the erection of a canning plant. To obtain the necessary supply of water workmen were engaged to bore an artesian well. Thursday morning at a depth of 400 feet gas was reached.

A flame 30 feet high was produced from the gas flow. The country, for a considerable distance around, was illuminated and the residents in the vicinity were greatly excited over its discovery.

Louisville Democrats Nominate a Ticket. LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 23.—The first city and county ticket to be put in the field for the November election was nominated Thursday by one faction of the democratic party, which in this county is very badly split. The ticket is headed by Postmaster Charles P. Weaver for mayor and includes about 85 candidates for city and county offices. No mention is made in the platform of any state or national issues.

Charged With a Heinous Crime. MAYFIELD, Ky., April 23.—Seven men, four white and three blacks, kidnaped a 12-year-old colored girl here. The girl is believed to have been murdered. The men are tough characters and are now in jail.

First Mayor of Elkton. ELKTON, Ky., April 23.—Dr. E. L. Edwards, aged 73, died at his home in this city Wednesday night and will be buried here Friday at 10 o'clock with masonic honors. The deceased was Elkton's first mayor and had been a mason for 50 years.

Centennial Proclamation. FRANKFORT, Ky., April 23.—Gov. Bradley issued a proclamation Thursday morning in regard to the Tennessee centennial. It urges the people of the state to attend it and contribute in every possible way to its success.

Murder in Billiard Room. SOMERSET, Ky., April 23.—Thomas Smith, living in Burnside, was shot and instantly killed in a billiard room here Thursday by John Satterfield, who was arrested. The murder was apparently unprovoked.

Big Victory for the Patriots. HAVANA, April 23.—From Puerto Principe City comes news of severe fighting, which lasted ten days, between the Spanish columns, under Col. Rizo, and several bands of patriots, numbering 4,000 men. The fighting resulted after a series of skirmishes, in a great victory for the patriots, the Spaniards losing 800 men.

An Attempt to Assassinate Humbert. ROME, April 23.—A strange man attempted to stab King Humbert Thursday afternoon, but the would-be assassin was seized before he could effect his purpose. The news spread throughout the city like wildfire and created the greatest excitement.
